

Maine

The potential to grow and make innovative products in rural America is limitless. Since 2009, the Obama Administration has made targeted investments to help rural businesses grow. Through the U.S. Department of Agriculture’s projects in affordable housing, energy efficiency, roads and bridges, and internet access, coupled with loans and grants for rural businesses, the Administration has helped to attract and retain a talented rural labor force, improve connectivity and access to information, move products to market, and make rural communities competitive—ultimately supporting strong local economies and expanded opportunity for rural Maine families.

SPOTLIGHT ON LOCAL

USDA is supporting Maine Farmland Trust to develop a food hub in Unity, Maine, by increasing capacity for aggregation, processing and marketing services, while also providing technical assistance.

Local food sales were valued at $11.7 billion in 2014. In Maine, USDA has invested in 632 local food projects, helping to develop food hubs, small-scale processing, farmers markets and other market opportunities in local food.

SUPPORT FOR RURAL BUSINESSES

USDA has made investments to help 144 rural businesses in Maine thrive and grow.

USDA investments in everything from advanced biofuels manufacturing facilities to food hubs help businesses, many of them small, capitalize on emerging markets for rural-made products. In rural America, small businesses support one in three jobs.

RENEWING RURAL MANUFACTURING

The rural economy includes more than products that come from farms. Rural manufacturing supports 20,890 jobs in Maine. USDA has invested $17.9 million to help rural manufacturers in Maine increase production and capacity.

GROWING EXPORTS

In 2013, exports of farm and ranch products alone contributed $299.9 million to Maine’s economy. The President’s Made In Rural America initiative helps rural businesses capitalize on demand for American-made products and identify ways they can participate in global markets.

HOUSING

Access to safe, affordable housing is critical to maintaining the rural labor force. USDA has helped 14,148 Maine families purchase or repair homes.

CONNECTIVITY

USDA has invested $23.5 million in telecommunications projects serving rural Maine families, which has helped to expand access to state-of-the-art health care, educational, and cultural resources and helps rural businesses compete in the global economy.

WATER

USDA has invested $175 million to support efficient water supply, treatment and storage facilities, and wastewater treatment systems. That investment has improved the health of thousands of rural Maine families who now have access to clean water and reliable sanitation.
